Practise counting forwards and backwards in your 2-, 5- and 10-times tables. You can learn them through songs, raps, writing them down, chanting them out loud, playing games online and offline. Have a look here for ideas:

Daily practise of number bonds and number facts

English - compulsory

We are going to be writing instructions after half term. Can you investigate what different types of instructions you have at home? Do they all look the same? What do they all have on them? Compare them to each other!

Daily reading
Practise your spellings on Spelling Shed / Phonics

History

Produce a timeline showing all of the Tudor Kings and Queens with a fact about each of them. You could even draw your own pictures if you are feeling creative!

Science

We have sorted, investigated and tested materials this half term. Can you use what you've learnt to set up your own investigation about which material is the strongest? You can choose which materials you test and how you test them. Show us what you found out!

PSHCE

Reflect on how you could help someone who is new to our class, how might they be feeling and what could you do to help them? Display your thoughts in whatever way you would like.

Art & Design

This half term, we have been looking at still life in Art. Can you create your own composition at home and take a photo of it? Then, have a go at recreating it by drawing your composition in your home learning book. You can colour it in too!

Music

Next half term, we will be starting rehearsals for our Year 2 Nativity play! Warm up your vocal cords by practising singing at home. You can get ideas for how here:
