

THE GRAPEVINE

Week 20 – Feb 2024

I'm not sure what is more difficult to take—an England rugby team loss against the Irish or an Arsenal semi-final defeat against Newcastle.....Never mind. On a brighter note, we have celebrated a fantastic NSPCC number day today—thank you for your support in some excellent numerical outfits. Thank you as well to Mrs Stewart (Maths Lead) for organising the event and supporting a worthwhile cause at the same time. Next week the children will learn about their next House Competition which will run over the half-term! In the meantime, enjoy the weekend and let's hope we will be celebrating an English Rugby victory against the French!
